Return Form

GEEEKTECH

Rules of return:

- Products have to be returned in an unused state and if possibile in the original packing

- If the product contains a box for packing then this box should not be used as packing box for shipping. To prevent damage to the original product packing use an outer box for shipment.

- The product has to be returned or exchanged within 14 days after purchase

- The costs for returning items are for the client

If the customer does not comply with these rules, Geektech.com can not accept your return. You should assume that geeektech still has to be able to sell the products after they have been returned.
